J. J. McTague Missing Since Last Friday

Much concern is felt here by the family and friends of J. J. McTague for his safety, owing to the fact that he left Petersburg for Wrangell last Friday night and not been seen or heard of since. Mr. McTague left for Petersburg to bring back the launch Helen and intended returning by Dry Straits. The Karen came in today from Petersburg and reports finding no trace of him or the boat. The weather has been very bad for the past few days and it is believed that he is laying anchored in some cove waiting for the weather to subside. A searching party is out looking for him.

Capt. Lukens, of the survey boat Yukon, reports that he has located a channel up the Kuskokwim river to Bethel. The channel is deep enough for vessels drawing seventeen feet.

The winter schedule on the White Pass Railroad, now in effect calls for the dispatch of trains between Skagway and Whitehorse on Tuesdays and Fridays only of each week.

A good show at the Rink tomorrow night.

J. G. Galvin Is Some Busy Man

J. G. Galvin, the popular manager of the Groundhog Basin Mine, is hustling between Wrangell and the Groundhog Basin and is meeting with the usual difficulties which are encountered in starting up a mine in this section of the country in the winter months but he is just as chippy as ever, and while he is using some pretty strong language at times, he is getting results just the same. Mr. Galvin has a full crew at work and we understand the property is looking better every day.

Take Mill Site At Mill Creek

The Groundhog Basin Mining Company yesterday had surveyed a twenty-five acre tract of land at the mouth of Mill Creek, and will lease same from the government as a mill site. The cruiser Tahn with Forest Supervisor Weigle on board came in Monday and taking W. D. Grant along left for the creek and made the survey. This is one of the most encouraging moves that has yet been made towards the permanent future of that mining camp.

New Dock Will Be Built Here

Mr. Sam Silverman, of the Stikine Mining Company, the first of the week closed a deal for the dock site of the old McKinnon Wharf and will put a crew of men to work tomorrow to start construction on a dock to be built on the old site. The new dock will have a two hundred foot water front between the St. Michael dock and the Columbia & Northern Dock, the approach to the dock will be about six hundred feet long.

It is the intention of the company to have their own transportation facilities up the Stikine River, which necessitates a dock and water front here.

A return of the good old days at Nome is apt to materialize if the several recent placer strikes pan out.

Fined $15 for speeding was the sentence of a Nome autoist last month, and the first case on record in that camp.

The government cableship Burnside spent three days at Ketchikan last week trying to find an anchor she had dropped.

Broad Pass ore runs from $2 to $360 per ton, says the Seward Post, and the extent of the formation is twenty-five miles long.

Gas Boat Burns At Co. Float

The gasboat Kingfisher caught fire while laying at the slip at the Columbia and Northern dock yesterday morning and before the fire could be put out the entire inside of the cabin and everything aboard was burnt up. The boat belonged to John Uolcheck who has used her for fishing the past season.

The boat caught fire from the stove. Uolcheck got out of bed and built a fire and laid down again thinking to stay in bed until the fire was hot and went back to sleep and awoke to find the cabin full of smoke. He broke out the glass in the door and crawled out with nothing except his underclothes, which is every stitch of clothes he saved from the fire.

There was a heavy swell at the float and it is presumed that the stove door came open and some fire fell out and went into the bilge which was full of gas and setting the boat on fire. The Kingfisher was about thirty feet long. Mr. Uolcheck states that the loss was over two hundred dollars.

Taking Ore From The Bertha Mine

George Skelton will leave Saturday for the Bertha Mine on Zarando Island taking with him a crew of seven men, for the purpose of getting out a ton of ore from the property down to the beach where it will be placed on a gasboat and taken to the smelter of the Gastineau Mining Company at Sheep Creek.

Glen C. Bartlett, the "Live Wire" Manager of The Gastineau Hotel of Juneau, with his wife and family, were passengers through on the Alameda bound for Ketchikan. Glen as usual has out a new advertising scheme in the shape of a neatly printed card bearing the inscription "If you spit on the floor at home, spit on the floor here; We want you to feel at home" following is a description of the hotel and of the big 65 room addition which is now in course of construction.

Mary Pickford Coming Next Sat. & Sun.

The first of the series of Famous Players to be shown at the Photo-Show will be Mary Pickford in Tess Of The Storm Country. This is one of the greatest plays ever produced and a feature that everybody will be delighted with. Come Early. Pricks the same.

Mining Co. Will Build New Boats

The Wrangell Machine Shop are this week overhauling the engines taken from the river boat Winifred, which was recently purchased by the Stikine Mining Company, and the same will be installed in a new river boat which they will build here this winter. The new boat will probably be of the fifteen ton class.

It is the intention of the Stikine Mining Company to put in service one more freighter as well as a side wheel passenger boat, and have same ready for operation next season.

Chas. Follansbee Wrangell Agent Mutual Life

Chas. Follansbee has been appointed agent for The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. This is one of the strongest insurance companies in the world and by appointing Charlie their agent here they have the right man for the right job. You need this insurance better call around and see about it.

A good show at the Wrangell Photoshow tonight.

Mask Dance Was Sure Some Time

The big Masquerade Ball, given by the Arctic Brotherhood, last Saturday evening at the Ritz, proved to be one of the biggest affairs given in the town for many months. A large crowd of masked attended and the makeup of several of them furnished fun for everyone, principally among them Dr. Emery as a Rube, Mrs. Reade as Sis Hopkins and Ira Roberts as a German Brewery.

It was good and everyone had a good time. The winners of the prizes were; Most Georges, Mrs. Tom Case, Geo. C. LaBounty, Best Original, Mrs. Reade, Ira Roberts; Best sustained character, Carlstrom, Edwin Clarke; Best Comical, Mrs. Reade, Dr. Price and the best Waltz, Mrs. Tom Clarke and Sam Knudson.

Whitehorse stores now close at 5 o'clock in the evening, except on Saturday.

Valdez is to have another making one daily and two weekly in the glacial city.

The work of clearing a site for the electric plant power house at Petersburg was started on Saturday.

A good show at the Wrangell Photoshow tonight.

A good show at the Photoshow tonight.

Paul Ownes returned on the Seattle Monday night after a trip south.

H. D. Campbell was a passenger south on the Alameda last Tuesday bound for a short trip to the south.

Representative J. R. Heckman arrived up from Ketchikan on the Seattle Monday night and spent a few days in the city on business.

J. E. Sales, a former Wrangellite, came down from Juneau the first of the week and spent a few days in town renewing old acquaintance.

Ed. Lindman is busy this week putting a porch on the front of the family residence on Stikine Ave.

Pat. Loftus has extensively remodeled his home on Stikine Ave. this week, by having a new roof put on and a new porch and the inside newly papered.

Dave Lewis returned on the City of Seattle Monday night after making the trip to the sound as engineer on the Halcyon of the Sanitary Cannery. He reported that the boat had a stormy trip south it taking eight days to make the trip.

Deputy Marshall C. D. Calhoun of Craig, brought over two booze peddlers from that city on the Uncle Dan yesterday. He is accompanied by P. A. Tucker.

The Vermont, Capt. Frank Farrer, came in from Tooken yesterday. Capt. Farrer reports everything at the quarry in fine shape.

The mill company are this week building a large shed on the mill dock for weather protection for the men working on the new tug boat which the mill company is building.

Capt. Fred Stackpole was a passenger south on the Alki bound for Wenatchee, Wash., where he will spend the winter. Fred has purchased a ranch in the fruit country but says he aims to make Wrangell his home in summer.

Mrs. L. C. Patenaude left on the Alki to accompany her mother Mrs. Iverson to her home at Berthold, N. D. Mrs. Patenaude expects to be gone the greater part of the winter.

L. Jernigan who has spent the past season here as bookkeeper for the Columbia & Northern and also took B. Y. Grant's place at the City Store during his absence left on the Alameda for Portland where he will spend the winter.

Owing to the fact that the City of Seattle stayed in port several hours Monday night, Manager Ed Richmond of the Photoshow, got busy and rustled up a dance for the amusement of the passengers. A good crowd attended and a good time was reported.

J. E. Johnson of Tooken, came in on the Vermont yesterday, on his way south.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Johnson and family left on the Alameda last Tuesday for the south where they will spend the winter. Mr. Johnson is the head sawyer for the local saw mill and expects to return again about the first of the year.

Local Cable

Operator Enters Matrimony

Miss Blanch Wakefield, of Seattle, Wash., and Sergeant M. A. McNurney, of the local cable office, were united in marriage last Monday evening at the home of Judge Thomas. Mrs. McNurney arrived the south on the City of Seattle and the ceremony was performed immediately after by Judge Thomas. The witnesses were Benjamin F. Hill and Mrs. Lydia L. Thomas, who were the only persons present at the event.

Mr. McNurney is the popular officer in charge of the U. S. cable station here and is very well known all over Alaska. The Sentinel joins with many friends of Mr. and Mrs. McNurney in wishing them a long, prosperous married life.

Washington, Oct. 30.—It was announced today that the marriage of President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Galt has been set for Monday Nov. 15.

Clippings From Our Exchanges

Ignorance of Pacific coast geography is by no means confined to the effete East. The San Francisco Chronicle speaks of "Dawson, Alaska."

Judge George L. Taylor, for the past fifteen years police magistrate at Whitehorse, died last Wednesday night of heart failure. His age was 54 years.

Methlakatla will be divided. Father Duncan, who led a band of Indians from British Columbia twenty years ago, is again preparing to move, aged as he is.

The Steamer Dora, of the Alaska Steamship Company, recently brought from the Westward a cargo of ivory furs and whalebone valued at $145,000.

At Nome all dredges have now closed down on account of the river freezing. A heavy snow is falling. Schooners are unable to navigate as far as Kotzobue.

Itinerant peddlers are taxed fifty dollars a day in Cordova and seven cents a day in Seward. There is a chance yet that our copper output will beat that bug. —Seward Gateway.

The Alaska Steamship Company officials have announced that the steamers Bennington and Burlington recently purchased from the Great Lake trade and which are now on their way to the coast will be renamed the Juneau and Valdez respectively.

On the next Southbound sailing of the Princess Sophia, will be inaugurated the fourteen day schedule of the steamers of the Canadian Pacific company for the winter months. The Sophia will probably be the steamer on the Alaska run.

Mayor Grant

Having A Great Time

The Editor is in receipt of a copy of the Pictorial Advocate of Oct. 23 and in looking over it we find the following about our Mayor and Mrs. Grant:

On Thursday, the 14th inst., Mr. and Mrs. James R. Grant, of Heathbell, entertained a number of their friends in honor of Mr. Grant's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Grant, of Wrangell, Alaska. The evening was spent with music, games and social chat.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Grant left on Wednesday for their home in Wrangell, Alaska, of which town Mr. Grant is mayor, going by New York, Colorado and San Francisco. On the way they will visit a sister and brother of Mr. Grant in Denver, Colorado, Mrs. T. H. Duggan and Mr. A. S. Grant, and a sister in Avalon, California, Mrs. H. T. MacRae.

Do You Know Anything Of Louis Lauer?

Postmaster Worden has handed us the following letter asking for information regarding one Louis Lauer. Anyone knowing of this man would do us a favor by giving us his address. The letter explains itself:

Postmaster,
Wrangell, Alaska.
Dear Sir:-

I would be pleased to have you advise me if there is a person listed in your City directory by the name of Louis Lauer, who I understand is somewhere in your territory. His brother Felix Lauer died lately and left word for me to find his brother Louis Lauer. I would also be pleased to have you turn this letter over to the best paper in your city and probably they will publish something which will lead to his finding. I am the son of Felix Lauer and the nephew of Louis Lauer.

I sincerely hope you will assist me in this matter and I thank you in advance for the favor.
Yours very truly,
Albert P. Lauer.

Notice To Taxpayers

Bruce, Assistant Commissioner of the General Land Office.

New Steamer Coming Soon Some Change

Seattle, Oct. 28—After the Kansas City has made one or more voyages to Alaska the Alaska Steamship Company will take her off and place her in drydock where she will receive a general overhauling. She will be transformed into an oil burner. Her staterooms will be renovated and other improvements made. It is estimated that the improvements will cost $40,000. The Kansas City will make her first trip to Alaska soon.

The Burlington and Bennington, recently purchased by the same company will also be overhauled and extensively altered so as to make them suitable for the Alaska trade. They will be converted into oil burners and other improvements will be made. The work on them will be done in New York, where they arrived yesterday with full cargoes of New Brunswick shing-

The Burlington and Bennington were purchased by the Alaska Steamship company after they had seen service for several years in the Lake trade. The delivery was made at Oswego, N. Y.

The work on the Bennington and Burlington will be completed and they will sail from New York for Puget Sound about January 1st. Empire.

Anchorage is to have a public school building, says Lieutenant Mears, provided the residents of that town dig down in their property and subscribe enough money to sustain the school.
